Course Overview

Enrollment Criteria	Students do not need any prior knowledge to join this course, although they should have an interest in puzzles and board games. This course encourages students to think critically and solve problems. The course is also an excellent avenue for additional conversational English practice.
Engage and Assess	In the first weeks, students will have the opportunity to learn games from around the world, developing their analytical skills. They will learn how to compete fairly, developing a healthy team spirit.
Explore and Develop	Having learned about various puzzles and games, students will have the opportunity to adapt board games, changing the rules or style of play.
Refine and Present	Towards the end of the term, students will have a robust knowledge of various games and will be able to share and teach others to play the games they love.
Parent Engagement Opportunity	After learning games in the club, parents are encouraged to challenge their children in these games at home.
